This serves as an official notice of sanction from the Elections Committee.

Following a hearing held on 3/27/18, the Elections Committee found that section 704.9.a, 704.9.b, and 704.9.c of the Elections Code had been violated by the Believe ticket.

On 3/27/18, BOLD Modeling Agency held a pop-up fashion show event in Tate plaza, a space that was reserved by another ticket at the time of the event. According to Campus Reservations, Events, and Technical Services (CRETS) policy, organizations may not use space in Tate that has been reserved by another party. BOLD modeling agency violated this policy.

Section 704.9.a of The Elections Code states that “all individuals who are actively representing an individual or party are considered to be staff” and section 704.9.c states that “campaign staff will adhere to the Student Government Association’s Code of Ethics, the Elections Code, and the University of Georgia’s Code of Conduct.”

The Elections Committee holds that BOLD Modeling Agency, an endorser of the Believe ticket, was “actively representing” the ticket during their pop-up fashion show event and violated University of Georgia policy during this time due to the use of approved campaign materials from the “Believe” ticket by personnel from the BOLD Modeling Agency.

Additionally, the Official Endorsement Form, signed by an executive member of BOLD Modeling Agency on behalf of the organization, states that “the candidate, party, or ticket shall be held responsible for any violation of the Election Code committed by the Endorser.”

The penalties regarding this sanction are as follows:

The Endorsement Form filed on behalf of the BOLD Modeling Agency is null and void. BOLD Modeling Agency is banned from further campaigning on behalf of any candidate, party, or ticket in the Spring 2018 Student Body Elections. Further campaigning includes, but is not
